

DOMINICAN SCHOOL INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC TUITION

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Welcome to Instrumental Music at Dominican School Semaphore.

Following is important information you need to know when making an application for your child. We hope that your child enjoys the creative experience of music making.

- Instrumental Music teachers operate independent of the school's normal program. The school's role is to oversee and coordinate the smooth running of the program
- Your decision to enrol your child in music lessons is an agreement between yourself and your child's music teacher
- All financial transactions are between yourself and the teacher. The school does not pay the teachers and it is your responsibility to ensure correct payments are made when due. Any cheques must be made out in the name of the teacher concerned and not the school
- You must inform the instrumental teacher if your child will not be at school the day before the lesson. This includes absences due to excursions, camps and other school activities. Where there is an extended absence due to holidays or illness please negotiate with the teacher regarding the payment of fees.
- Please note: Instrumental teaching is the teacher's livelihood and there must be a commitment to making agreed payments on time. If there is any difficulty in making payments, you must communicate this to the instrumental teacher. Please note, where there is a waiting list, failure to pay fees cannot guarantee continuation of lessons.
- For the beginning student, progress is often slow and young children in particular, can tire of the practise regime. As parents you can encourage your child to spend shorter and more frequent practise times between lessons. Ten to fifteen minutes each day in the early stages of learning a new instrument will bear surprising results. In addition, sitting with your child during practise a couple of times a week will encourage and motivate him/her to keep at it and get over those difficult times when they feel they want to give up.

Current cost for lessons is as follows:

1. The standard half hour lesson rate is usually $30.00 per student (but this may vary between teachers).
2. A shorter 20 minute lesson is available for $25.00 per student (as determined by the instrumental teacher depending on student age and progression)
3. Payment options are per lesson or per term.

Please complete the attached application form and return to the Front Office.
The instrumental teacher will contact you to discuss your child's commencement.
